

4438 Old Mill Court, Columbus, NE 68601

Marketing & Communications Internship

About

At Pillen Family Farms/DNA Genetics, we're always looking for great people to join our dynamic team - and that includes internship positions! We're a family-owned, family-focused business that takes great care in everything we do, from raising highly productive pigs to fostering team member development.

We specialize in all aspects of producing quality pork for the world's table which includes our genetic program (DNA Genetics), commercial production (Pillen Family Farms) all the way through final processing (Wholystone Foods).

Our internship program provides an in-depth, immersive experience into all areas of our business, from pig care to promoting our genetic program to customers. Each internship is well crafted to provide students of all majors and career goals with quality professional experiences.

Timeline

Summer Internship and Winter Break/Midterm Internship available (flexible upon academic schedule)

Duties & Responsibilities

Interns will obtain experience in the following areas:

- Support organizational and production strategies by designing and maintaining materials such as email and PowerPoint templates, company newsletters and more
- Responsible for the development and production of in-house communications material such as stock photography and videography
- Create or incorporate illustrations, photos and designs to reflect the desired theme and tone of campaigns
- Update and create content for print and digital distribution
- Ensure projects are completed with high quality and on schedule

Qualifications

Any student pursuing a two or four-year communications, marketing or related degrees who meets the following qualifications:

- 2.8 GPA or above
- Passionate about teamwork, accountability and has the desire to learn and understand the company's operation system
- Team player and ability to work with others

Benefits

- Paid internship
- Housing
- Mileage reimbursement available
- Tuition assistance program
- Weekly opportunity to engage with all leadership
- Experiences with other interns
- Social events

Application Process

Visit PillenFamilyFarms.com/internships to apply!

Deadline: November 25, 2022

402-564-0407

pillenfamilyfarms.com | dnaswinegenetics.com